Company: Clinton Health Access Initiative, Inc

Location: Uganda

Category: other-general

Overview

of Role:

CHAI is seeking a highly motivated, entrepreneurial, and mission-driven individual with strong public health management experience and communication skills to join a fun and collaborative team who are dedicated to the mission of eliminating malaria and NTDs in Africa.

The Regional Manager will have significant opportunity to shape CHAI's approach to supporting malaria and NTD programs across a set of countries. They will work with CHAI's country and technical teams to devise evidence-based strategic plans, manage communications across countries, regions, and teams, organize CHAI's work, and provide effective leadership to execute high-impact programs.

The successful candidate does not need to have prior expertise in malaria or NTDs, but they must have the capacity to rapidly absorb new concepts and be comfortable communicating these to a technical audience. They will have a deep personal commitment to producing results, be able to work independently to drive success and willing to provide support to different tasks large or small. They will have strong team management and leadership skills and the capacity to facilitate high-level strategic discussions with a multi-cultural, multidisciplinary set of actors.

CHAI places great value on the following qualities in its staff: resourcefulness, responsibility, patience, tenacity, humility, independence, and work ethic.

This position may be based in Uganda or Kenya, or another program country in Africa, pending leadership approval.

Responsibilities

Serve as a thought partner and contribute to a technically sound strategic vision for reducing the burden of malaria and NTDs across the region.

Communicate effectively across a matrixed organization, and coordinate CHAI teams and resources to ensure specific project goals are met.

Foster a strong team culture based on CHAI's values, resulting in a cohesive and productive team.

Work with CHAI Program Managers to ensure that achievable project plans are in place and integrated with team and government priorities.

Organize and monitor program activities against project goals and donor commitments.

Together with CHAI's technical teams, promote the routine use of data and analysis to evaluate effectiveness of current interventions and inform strategic planning.

Identify and resolve operational bottlenecks and work collaboratively with CHAI teams to achieve exceptional results on aggressive timelines.

Provide inputs to technical deliverables (. strategic plans, guidelines) and organize development of donor reports, concept notes or other products for external communication.

Rapidly digest and synthesize complex technical, political and operational information and expertly tailor results, outputs and action items to a wide range of internal and external stakeholders.

Develop and manage relationships with key regional stakeholders, including government officials, donors, and academic organizations to foster collaboration.

Identify new opportunities within and outside the initial project scope, anticipate risks and be proactive in responding to them.

Other responsibilities as needed.

Qualifications

Master's degree in public health, business administration, or relevant field

Minimum of 6 years work experience with increasing levels of responsibility and leadership

Highly effective written and oral communication skills including the ability to develop and deliver persuasive and visually compelling presentations

Exceptional problem-solving skills

Experience in project or program management

Experience in strategy development, planning, and project implementation

Demonstrated ability to learn quickly, connect the dots, and think 'outside the box'

Experience in capacity building, mentorship, and management of remote or decentralized teams

Exceptional organizational skills and attention to detail

Ability to work independently in unstructured settings and to adapt to new environments and challenges

Strong work ethic, integrity, credibility, and dedication to CHAI's mission

High levels of proficiency with Microsoft Word, Excel, and PowerPoint

Willingness to travel 25-30%

Preferences:

Experience working at CHAI

Knowledge of malaria, NTDs or other global infectious disease priorities

Experience working in Sub-Saharan Africa

Experience working and communicating with government officials and multilateral organizations
